LOSS OF BRIDGHEAD ACROSS RHINE AT ARNHEM DISPELS HOPES OF A QUICK VICTORY

American Third Army is Thrown Out of Toe-Hold at Entrance of Fort of Driant Guarding Approaches to Metz on Moselle

CANADIANS ATTACK THROUGH CANAL LINES

BULLETIN
With the British Second Army, Sept. 28.—(P)—British troops stormed up to the Meuse on a 14-mile front today, wiping out a 10-mile pocket from which the Germans had launched their first savage thrust to cut the Allied lifeline to the Rhine. The drive to the Meuse against intermittently stiff and faltering opposition blotted out the last German threat to the corridor and widened the salient striking into the heart of Holland to at least 18 miles—12 miles wider than it was 24 hours ago. Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's forces now have a hold on the west Meuse bank from Cuijk to Vierlingsbeek.

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Sept. 28.—(P)—The Allies' Nijmegen lifeline widened today into an offensive wedge which was within 25 miles of walling off in western Holland perhaps 200,000 Germans who may be added to the nearly 1,000,000 already written out of the battle of western Europe.

But the loss of the Allies' only bridgehead across the Rhine at Arnhem in Holland by British First Airborne Division troops, whose 2,000 remnants trickled back through the corridor, apparently had dispelled hopes of a quick victory over Germany. Prime Minister Churchill advised the house of commons that the war in Europe might well continue into 1945.

BOMBS RAIN ON FACTORIES IN THE REICH

Over Thousand American Heavies Attack Plants at Magdeburg, Kassel and Merseburg During Day

42 ARE REPORTED LOST

London, Sept. 28.—(P)—More than 1,000 American heavy bombers today attacked German war factories at Magdeburg, Kassel and Merseburg. The railroad yard at Magdeburg was also hit.

The American bombers swept over the Reich for the fourth straight day, close on the heels of RAF heavies which carried the non-stop air offensive against German transportation through the night with a heavy attack on Kaiserslautern, important industrial city in the Saar.

The night raiders also made a jab at Kassel, one of the four places attacked in daylight by American heavies which constituted about half the estimated 2,500 Allied planes over Germany yesterday and last night.

Probably close to 2,000 more fighters and bombers pounded enemy troops, railways and fortifications in the low countries and along the coast making it one of the busiest air days of the month.

The German airforce, while greatly outnumbered, showed more life than usual and made several rough swipes at the attacking forces but at high cost to themselves. At least 90 German fighters were destroyed, including more than 60 in the air. Allied losses were 44 bombers and 16 fighters.

Forty-two American heavies out of a force of more than 1,100 were lost on the four-pronged mission to the Rhineland. It was the third heaviest Eighth Airforce loss this month. Much of the damage was suffered by one formation of Liberators pounced upon by 100 Nazis over Kassel.

Issue Raised On Censored Ballots

Harrisburg, Sept. 28.—(P)—Attorney General James H. Duff sought a conference with Governor Martin today on the question of whether opening of soldier ballots by censorship officials affects their validity.

The question arose last night when Harry J. Williams, chief clerk of the Luzerne county election bureau, reported army censorship notations appear on some of the envelopes enclosing returned ballots of members of the armed forces.

Williams reported to the Luzerne county commissioners that an inspection of some of the nearly 3,800 military ballots so far returned to that county showed that about one in six bore the name of a censor written on the envelope containing the ballot and at least two showed signs of having been opened.

In Washington, the war department declined to comment on the case without an official investigation, but said it has ordered censurers not to mark or open ballot envelopes.

Commons Cautioned About U. S. Election

London, Sept. 28.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill reminded commons today that an election was on in the United States and told members "not to be startled or carried away by sensational reports" during the campaign.

"The U. S. is a land of free speech," he said, "nowhere is speech freer. Not even here where we sedulously cultivate it, even in its most repulsive form."

"But when I see some of the accounts given of conversations I am supposed to have had with the president of the United States, I can only recall a Balfourian phrase of many years ago when he said that the accounts given bore no relation to the actual facts than the wildest tales of the Arabian nights to the ordinary incidents of domestic life in the east."

Neutrals Are Warned Not to Harbor Axis

Washington, Sept. 28.—(P)—Secretary of State Hull disclosed today that neutral nations had been warned today they would lose American friendship "for years to come" should they give sanctuary to Hitler or other Axis leaders after the war.

Several governments of neutral or former neutral status, notably Sweden, Turkey, Switzerland and Spain, either have given assurances that they will not permit Axis nationals to flee into their borders or that they are fully aware of the problems such action might provoke.

"No indication has yet been received of the views of certain other governments," Hull said in a statement released at his news conference.

A few hours before the secretary spoke the Soviet embassy here sponsored publication of a statement that Russia's participation in the settlement of this war would provide the "best guarantee" that Hitler would not escape punishment after this war as Kaiser Wilhelm did after the last.

"Hitler, his clique and all persons guilty of heinous crimes will suffer the full punishment they merit," the embassy's "information bulletin" said.

Greek Guerrillas Further Cut In Civilian Work Clothes Made

Rome, Sept. 28.—(P)—Greek Guerrilla forces have placed themselves under the jurisdiction of the Allied command and steps have been outlined for coordinated offensive measures to bring about the "speediest possible liberation of Greece."

Allied headquarters announced today, adding that Lt. Gen. R. McK. Scoobie of the British army has been named commander of all Allied operations in Greece.

Gen. Napoleon Zervas and General Sarafis, commanding two guerrilla armies, conferred recently in Italy with Allied military commanders and officials of the Greek government-in-exile. The announcement said they "declared their full acceptance" of proposals to bring the guerrillas under Allied command.

POSITION OF NAZIS AT RIGA IS HOPELESS

Russian Drive, Enveloping An Additional 200 Settlements, Approaches Close To Port Pocket

REDS ENTER SLOVAKIA

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Sept. 28.—(P)—Soviet military analysts described as "strategically hopeless" today the position of German troops attempting to withdraw from the Latvian port of Riga along a hotly strafed coastal escape road.

The Russian drive, enveloping an additional 200 Latvian settlements yesterday, approached close to Riga on the northeast. The German command decided apparently to move the bulk of its troops out of the Riga pocket, rather than risk entrapment by a possible Russian breakthrough west of the Latvian capital.

Front dispatches told of rear-guard actions outside Riga and heavy enemy movements westward on the Tukums road leading to western Lithuania and East Prussia.

Meanwhile other Red army forces, outflanking the key Uzk Pass through the Carpathian mountains, reached the soil of eastern Slovakia. The decisive moment seemed near for the fourth Ukrainian army, led by Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov, to crack the tough German and Hungarian defense zone along the crest of the Carpathians in that sector.

The Red army's main thrust has been beyond the western extremity of the Hungarian fortifications, and is designed to establish a solid juncture with patriot resistance forces in central Slovakia.

The Russian command was silent on the progress of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's campaign to invade Hungary across her southern plains, but it was asserted his drive will be coordinated with the fighting in eastern Slovakia. The overall strategy is to clamp a pincer on Hungary and cut off forces holding northern Transylvania.

(German reports said Red army forces have already made a ten mile penetration into Hungary from the Arad area of Romania.)

Further Cut In Civilian Work Clothes Made

Washington, Sept. 28.—(P)—Production of civilian work clothes is likely to be cut further during the next three months, the Office of War Information said today. It added that consumer cotton goods items generally will be less available and of mediocre quality for some time to come.

In a report based on data from the War Production Board and the Foreign Economic Administration, OWI said that a current scarcity of cotton goods for civilians, now described as greater than at any period during the war, is expected to continue for one or two years after the collapse of Germany.

The civilian market will have 5,000,000 fewer pairs of overalls than first planned for October 3, the report said. Civilians also will have to do with little more than half of the towel they bought in 1939 and can get no work shirt chambray at all, it added.

The military has first call on the better fabrics as well as priorities on production. OWI said that when hostilities end in Europe, export demands for cotton are expected to double because of relief needs.

Russians Prepare For Another Hard Winter

Moscow, Sept. 28.—(P)—While not forecasting how long the war in Europe will last, the Soviet Union appeared today to be taking the view that a long hard road still lies ahead.

A responsible quarter in Moscow said this viewpoint developed because the Russians knew Germany and the German army better than some others.

The Russian people are preparing for another hard winter. One meets with no predictions here that the war will be over before the first of the year.

Epic Eight-Day Stand Ends

While Berlin boasted Nazi tanks and guns had wiped out the "Lost Division" of British paratroopers at Arnhem, an estimated 1,700, who clung stubbornly to a foothold on the north bank of the Lek river for eight days, returned to their comrades with a story of valor to take its place beside Britain's Dunkerque and Coventry.

Map shows where the troops were surrounded by the Nazis.

GOP Nominee Returns After Western Tour

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, arrived back in Albany today after a three-week trans-continental campaign tour.

The Dewey special train arrived at 9 a. m. but the governor and Mrs. Dewey did not leave their Pullman car until 9:30.

They were greeted by approximately 300 persons, who gave them an impromptu reception.

Dewey faced a busy day at the capital, including a conference with Herbert Brownell, Jr., chairman of the National Republican Committee.

Dewey appeared refreshed as he motored to the executive mansion. He had retired late after several train-stop addresses en route from Tulsa, Okla. In these impromptu speeches, the GOP candidate emphasized that if the Republicans win in November, he would sweep new dealers out of the government from top to bottom.

"There is a job in Washington which I would particularly like to do," he told a Munice, Ind., railroad yard crowd yesterday. "I should like to start the best house cleaning job the government ever got."

Probe Death Of Noted Evangelist

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 28.—(P)—An autopsy was to be conducted today on the body of Almee Semple McPherson, 55-year-old world famed evangelist, to determine the cause of her death in a hotel room yesterday.

Mrs. McPherson, known as Sister Aimee, died shortly after she was discovered, gasping for breath and nearly unconscious, by her son, Rolf. Her death was ascribed to a heart attack at the time.

Her career was marked by a series of widely-noticed events, climaxed by her disappearance on the beach at Venice, Calif., on May 18, 1926. A nationwide search was ended on June 25 when she appeared at Agua Prieta, Mexico, near the border and told of having been kidnapped. Eventually she said, she cut her bonds and made her escape.

A grand jury in Los Angeles investigated her story but failed to return an indictment after hearing testimony on the case.

FULL-DRESS REPORT ON THE QUEBEC CONFERENCE MADE BY BRITISH PRIME MINISTER

Possibility of Organized Resistance After German State And Army are Completely Broken is Foreseen by Briton Leader

MILLION MEN LANDED IN FRANCE SINCE D-DAY

By JOHN F. CHESTER
London, Sept. 28.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill warned the house of commons today that the war against Hitler might well continue into 1945.

"I deprecate very much people being carried away into premature expectations of an early cessation of the fighting," he declared in a full-dress report on the Quebec conference and the war in general.

Of Polish-Russian differences the prime minister said Britain would do her utmost to obtain for Russia "the security she is entitled to have on her west front" and that he expected Poland to have her national sovereignty and independence restored.

He said that there would have been changes on the frontier and "Russia has a right to our support in this matter."

Looking to peace, Churchill said it was essential that Premier Marshal Stalin join with the heads of the United States and British governments in a new meeting as soon as the military situation permitted.

Just before he ended the hour-long initial portion of his speech an dthe house adjourned for lunch until 2:00 p. m., the prime minister added:

"There is also the possibility that after the organized resistance of the German state and army is completely broken fierce warfare may be maintained in the forests and mountains of Germany by numbers of desperate men conscious of their own guilt and impending doom."

"We don't consider that the declared date of the ending of the war against Germany must necessarily be postponed until the last desperate has been tracked down in his lair."

The prime minister said the Allied invasion of Europe had cost Germany nearly 1,000,000 men killed, wounded and captured and said "there may well be 200,000 of them in the coastal fortresses" (Turn to Page Eleven)

Highway Town In Italy Captured

Rome, Sept. 28.—(P)—American troops of the Fifth Army have captured Castel Del Rio, about 15 miles below Imola, an important town on the Rimini-Bologna highway, Allied headquarters announced today.

Regaining the heights lost in a fierce Nazi counterattack two days ago, the Americans also seized Mount Carnevale, southeast of Castel Del Rio.

British and Dominion troops in the Adriatic sector enlarged their bridgehead over the Rubicon to a two-mile depth over a 10-mile front and closed in on the town of Savignano.

On the Adriatic sector Canadian troops of the Eighth Army captured Bellaria, a small seaside town eight miles beyond Rimini.

Advancing northwest from Sant'Arcangelo, British troops moved to within 1,000 yards of Savignano, which the Nazis were defending strongly. Breaking through bitter opposition the British also reached within a mile of Mont Albano, on the crest of a ridge running north to Savignano.

This would represent a victory for Secretary of State Hull and War Secretary Stimson in their controversy with Morgenthau over this government's policy toward a defeated Germany.

The president, it is said, may issue a special policy order clarifying the line American planning should take on German peace policy or he may pigeonhole the Morgenthau plan, saying nothing about it formally.

By this week-end the whole program is expected to be functioning normally with Morgenthau's representatives on the president's cabinet committee on peace policy directed to confine themselves solely to economic questions. Primary decisions on political matters will be handled by the state department and military questions by the war department.

WOMAN BELIEVED SUICIDE
Ellwood City, Sept. 28.—(P)—Lawrence County Coroner T. S. Nugent said today the body of Mrs. Mildred Beighley, 34, was found hanging from a rafter in the basement of her home at near-by Wurtenburg late yesterday. She is survived by her husband, Harry, and three sons.

Executive Against Morgenthau Plan

Washington, Sept. 28.—(P)—President Roosevelt, it is said on high authority, has told peace planners that he will not accept Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's plan to reduce postwar Germany to an agricultural state.

This would represent a victory for Secretary of State Hull and War Secretary Stimson in their controversy with Morgenthau over this government's policy toward a defeated Germany.

The president, it is said, may issue a special policy order clarifying the line American planning should take on German peace policy or he may pigeonhole the Morgenthau plan, saying nothing about it formally.

By this week-end the whole program is expected to be functioning normally with Morgenthau's representatives on the president's cabinet committee on peace policy directed to confine themselves solely to economic questions. Primary decisions on political matters will be handled by the state department and military questions by the war department.

Girl Scout Area Conference Proved Inspiration to Workers

Mrs. Bernard McLaughlin, of Bradford, presided at the morning meeting of the Girl Scout Area conference on Wednesday at the Woman's Club. The speaker for the morning was Mrs. O'Neal Johnson of Washington, D. C., whose subject was "Bridges of Learning."

Mrs. Johnson introduced the theme for round tables which followed the general meeting. The transition periods from Brownie Scout to Intermediate Girl Scout, from there to Senior Girl Scout and from Senior Girl Scout to bridge for which Girl Scout training is a preparation are the bridges which every girl must cross in the course of her Girl Scout experience, according to Mrs. Johnson. The duty of the adults in the organization is to see that each girl crosses all the bridges safely.

An interesting sidelight was the fact that in one Bradford troop of Senior Girl Scouts, six girls of one family have been members of the group within eight years.

Mrs. Ronald Leslie announced that more than 150 women had been present in discussion groups and many other men and women attended the dinner and evening session on Tuesday.

The words of farewell given by Mrs. H. G. Stohl, conference chairman, expressed the hope that this area conference may be followed by many others of like nature.

As the flag of the United States and the Girl Scout World Association flag were carried out of the auditorium in an impressive ceremony, the audience stood in deep silence, conscious of the fact that Miss Kathryn McCullough, who is a Girl Scout national staff member well known to many of the Warren leaders, is now at Cairo, Egypt, and that other national staff members are working with refugee groups in other liberated countries of Europe to make the idealism expressed by the two flags a living reality to people who have suffered from totalitarian brutalities.

The color guard for the opening and closing ceremonies was formed of members of Senior Girl Scout troops 7 and 27. The participants were Ruth Ann David, Patty Kolpien, Jean Peterson, Rosemary Stricker, Nan Schwartz and Joanne Wendell. Music was furnished by Mrs. Clara Swanson and Miss Marilyn Emery.

Visitors from out of town who attended the conference were loud in their praise of Warren hospitality and of the good work done by local committees who planned and carried out the conference. The kindness of citizens who opened their homes to accommodate the guests came in for special mention.

How Allies May Police Germany

One reported product of the recent Quebec conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill was virtual agreement on postwar occupation and control of Germany. As shown on the map above, the reported plan is to divide Germany into three parts, each allocated to one of the United Nations' Big Three. The United States would run things in Baden, Wurttemberg, Bavaria and other territories in the south. Everything east of the Lubeck-Elbe River line would be under Soviet supervision, while Great Britain would take the northern provinces west of the Lubeck-Elbe line to the Netherlands border. Each area would be under a commissioner responsible to his own government, the three forming a German commission to co-ordinate general occupation policy. Under the Allies' Moscow declaration last December, Austria was promised independence, and it is likely that the U. S., Britain and the USSR will have representatives on an administrative Austrian Commission.

Mead Plant Doubling Its Factory Space

In a letter to the trade issued this week announcement is made that the Mead Paper Company has changed its name to the Mead Machine and Iron Works. Due to the increase of work at the plant and the heavy welding and machine work done it was felt that the change was necessary.

The company is also engaged in making an addition to its plant 606 Lexington avenue that will practically double its space and capacity. The change will enable the firm to give more attention to the work in hand most of which is done on a subcontract basis.

The company started in a small building at the present address and during 1928 and during the depression years engaged in general garage and repair work. The company is quite proud of the part it has played in the war effort.

During the past two years much thought has been given to the post war problems and plans have been laid to solve many of them. Experiments are now being conducted on a new line that will have a considerable demand when peace time activities open.

The management of the Mead Company and the general public may feel some pride in the success of the organization as it is purely a Warren enterprise and has unaided grown to the present proportions.

Messenger Service

YOU can take out family insurance against forgotten telephone calls and mislaid mail by fashioning a messenger service box with a slot for each member of the family, such as the one sketched, and attach it to the wall above the telephone. To make, take an unfinished hanging shelf, cut small partitions from plywood or some similar boarding, stain shelf to match telephone table and paste name tags for each member of the family beneath each slot.

Storm Brings Damage Here To Many Trees

The wind and rain storm that swept in on this area last evening did considerable damage to trees about town. Many limbs were torn from fine shade trees and on Third avenue near Poplar street one big tree was uprooted and fell across Third avenue. It effectively closed the street and flares were put out warning drivers of the danger ahead. It was removed today by employees of the park department. Observer Merrill Jordan of the U. S. Weather Department reported this morning that 1.1 inches of rain fell during the storm. The effect was also noted in the river, which rose from a stage of 1.7 yesterday to 2.3 this morning. A further rise is predicted.

Many farmers about the county who have been hauling water for some time past for the use of their livestock welcomed the rain, which is expected to replenish wells and springs on the farms. The long-continued drought of the past summer dried up many wells and springs over the county and reduced many small streams about the county to mere rivulets. According to several this morning, it may take much more rain than fell last night to bring back the water supply over the county.

New 'A-13' Gas Coupons Will Become Valid Nov. 9th

Erie district motorists will start using their new "A" gasoline ration books on November 9, when the "A-13" coupon series—first in the new book—become valid, the Office of Price Administration announced Tuesday.

OPA added that under the new east coast regulations, the last coupons in the old book—the A-12 series—will never be used. New "A" books now are in use outside the eastern area.

Effective date of the new gasoline book was moved up for the east coast motorists in an effort by the OPA to wipe out differences between the east coast and other areas and to expedite the war on ration book counterfeiters.

The A-13, now being used, expires November 9, on which date the OPA will jump the A-12 series and motorists will start using A-13s, which will remain valid until December 21, when they become void throughout the country. From that time on, the effective date of each gasoline coupon will coincide in all parts of the country, OPA said.

Coupons in the new book will contain easily-traced serial numbers, and counterfeiters of the new series will be readily detected by a secret test known only to a few persons in close contact with materials used in the manufacture of the coupons, OPA explained.

Veteran Broadway Star Is Scared In Front of G. I. Joes

By SID FEDER
(Substituting For Hal Boyle)

Rome, Sept. 25—(Delayed)—As one of Broadway's veteran dramatic stars, Katharine Cornell has faced all kinds of audiences without a moment's nervousness. But she admits she was mightily scared the night she stepped out in front of the G.I.s to open her tour in Italy.

She was afraid her drama—"The Barretts of Wimpole street"—would be too long-hair for the G.I.s. But after the opening night performance, one of the Doughboys came backstage to tell her: "It's highbrow stuff, Miss Cornell, but it's good."

Then she met two more soldiers who said "we never saw a stage play before in our lives, but you're tops."

"That was a month ago today, and since then she and what she calls "the greatest cast ever to play the Barretts" has been a big hit with the soldiers. And the soldiers have been a big hit with the cast.

"Why," recalled Margaret Steenson, former Appleton, Wis., school teacher now working for the Red Cross, "they were here five days and could have been entertained by generals and all the ranking officers in the area. Instead, they came to our club every night to have coffee and Doughnuts with the boys. They talked to them and entertained them. I never saw such enthusiasm on the part of the troops."

The troupe opened its tour in historic Garibaldi theater in Santa Maria. It was in this theater that Enrico Caruso appeared many times early in his career. Actor Brian Aherne found Caruso's name still scrawled on the wall of his dressing room.

After five days in Santa Maria the troupe moved to Caserta, Foggia, Naples and expected to head for the front lines after playing in Rome.

Everywhere Miss Cornell and the rest of the cast held open house backstage to hundreds of Doughboys nightly. For the first few nights the celebrated actress talked only of "how nice the soldiers were."

Later, to Sgt. Charles Penwell of Norfolk, Neb., who took

Chick Sales Down 50 Pct. Last Month

Harrisburg, Sept. 23.—Not many more than one-half the number of baby chicks were produced during August of this year in Pennsylvania hatcheries compared with the same month in 1943, and most of the current hatchery output is for broiler production, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, State Department of Agriculture, says in a recent report.

Chick production probably approached the low point for the year during August. Some hatcheries expected to resume operations in September and a few more in October but the general opening for the 1945 season will not occur until January and February. Eggs set by commercial hatcheries in August totaled 2,905,000 compared with 5,188,000 in the same month last year. The August chick production totaled 2,000,000, which was 1,733,000 less than a year previous.

Determination of Pennsylvania farmers to reduce their flocks and cut egg production for the coming year is reflected in more than 11 million fewer chicks produced by commercial hatcheries from January to August inclusive, than for the same period last year.

However, the number of chicks booked September 1 by hatcheries cooperating in the survey was almost as large as a year previous and orders were said to be picking up. In some sections demands for pullets is said to exceed the supply, and there appears to be a shortage of good hatching eggs. The price for broilers is considered low.

The output of chicks by commercial hatcheries in the United States during August was 52 per cent less than the record output of August last year.

Oversea Xmas Mailing Urged

James K. Bell, postmaster, Tuesday warned relatives and friends of the area's service-men and women against neglect in mailing Christmas packages for overseas delivery now in the hope that their loved ones will be home for the holidays.

Even if the war in Europe ends before Christmas, servicemen and women of that theater will still be actively engaged in the transporting of troops, Bell said.

"Failure to mail Christmas packages now will mean disappointment Christmas eve," he added.

Deadline for mailing gifts to men of the armed services overseas is Oct. 15. The mailing period began Sept. 15.

Bell's statement was in concurrence with a similar warning issued by the Fourth Naval District in Philadelphia in connection with men of the navy, marine, and coast guard reserves.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, Sept. 26—The Lutheran Brotherhood was entertained on Thursday evening in the church parlors with Adolph Nelson and E. G. Nelson as hosts. The regular business meeting was held, Glyde Gillett, presiding, in which mention was made of the shubbery planting and landscaping done on the church lawn by Forest Herron, nurseryman of Allegheny, N. Y. This has beautified the church property a great deal and the Brotherhood feels proud of their opportunity to do this for the church. This is an expensive project and only recently has an organization in the church been able to think of doing it. The planting actually was done on Tuesday evening by the members of the church under the supervision of Mr. Herron. The program followed: Reading, Wilbur John; vocal solo, Carl Swanson; reading, E. O. Nelson; reading, Herman Hanson. Lunch was served at the close of the evening. Prior to the Brotherhood meeting, the church board of directors held its business meeting with the Rev. Carl Nelson of Wilcox conducting it.

The Lutheran Circle met at the Red Cross rooms on Wednesday evening with Mrs. B. K. Connelly and Miss Margery Winkie as hostesses. The meeting was led by the president, Mrs. Carl Swanson. Reports were made by various chairmen of past activities and money earned. A motion was made and carried that the Circle meet for the duration at the Red Cross rooms when there is Red Cross work to be done. There were eighteen members and three guests.

COMMUNITY

Notice—Red Cross room will be open only on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Thursday afternoons, until further notice by direction of the Red Cross rooms chairman, Mrs. Adolph Johnson.

The Ludlow Girl Scout local council committee which is a part of the Warren County Council was entertained by Mrs. L. E. Connelly on Tuesday evening at her home. This was an annual meeting with an election of officers and plans made for the winter. Mrs. Connelly resigned as chairman and Mrs. Walter Cox was elected in her stead. The following are the election results: Ludlow chairman, Mrs. Walter Cox; first vice chairman, Mrs. O. W. Olmsted; second vice chairman, Mrs. Carl L. Swanson; secretary, Mrs. Melvin McCleary; treasurer, Miss Tillie Olson. There was no election of Scout chairmen of committees at this meeting. Mrs. E. W. Johnson heads the Brownie committee and Mrs. R. E. Wenstran heads the intermediate and senior committees. Leaders will be announced later. The treasurer's report was given. Other business was discussed. Much mention was made of the Girl Scout Area Conference being held in Warren on Tuesday of this week which is a major event for Girl Scouting in this area. It is hoped that Ludlow will be well represented.

Mrs. Connelly was complimented on her two years of splendid service, as were all of the other women who have done so much to make Girl Scouting a success in Ludlow. Ludlow has been very fortunate in being able to develop all three angles of Scouting... Brownie, Intermediate, and Senior Scouting. Mrs. Leroy Johnson and Mrs. John Johnson, who began the Brownie troop two years ago say it is most interesting work and that the children benefit a great deal from the experience. The Intermediates were formed in early 1943 with Miss Lydia Dickinson as leader and with various leaders since that time. The Seniors were organized in Nov. 1940 with Mrs. Walter Cox and Miss Dorothy Lytle as leaders. Mrs. Cox has continued since that time with various assistants. The girls have their meetings in Scout House, a building owned by Walter Cox which is located on their home property. This is a decided advantage. (From Page Five)

"SUCCESS-CONDITIONED"

Just as expected, the defeat at Arnhem and Allied failure to walk through the Siegfried Line has resulted in widespread belief that the war has gone to pot. Forgetting how we glossed over defeats two and three years ago, we are now "success-conditioned" and every temporary setback becomes a major catastrophe.

As one analyst today points out "it was true at Cassino, and when the Germans and bad weather delayed us a little while in Normandy, and now again when we have lost, in a dramatic episode, fewer men than have the Germans in many actions which failed even to make the front pages. It is a reaction from a few weeks ago when the German army was 'broken' and speculation was rife as to whether it could make even a halfway decent stand on the Rhine."

Now we are talking of a winter war on frustration of the western front. Churchill, naturally taking the opportunity to overcome any possible remaining overconfidence, reminds that it could be, but carefully abstains from saying it will.

Well, it could be. People fighting with their backs to their homes often upset the best military calculations. On September 28, 1941, there were few who conceded the Russians any chance to stop the Nazis before Moscow.

But today's military set-up hardly fits the same mold. The Allies probably have on the western front three times as many men as do the Germans. They are better equipped, their rear areas are practically free from the constant bombing which harries every German move, and they have unlimited resources behind them.

It would have been very helpful if the airborne troops could have held the Rhine bridge at Arnhem. But the jabs back and forth up and down the front are only the warm-up rounds in the real battle for Germany. Delay now, as at Caen, means only that once again Eisenhower is sending no boys to do a man's job. The German campaign will start when he is ready to start it, and that probably very soon.

The Germans keep counter-attacking the American First and Third Armies, while fighting bitterly to contain the still-attacking British, French and American Seventh in other sectors. On the Russian front that would mean the First and Third are building up the strength the Germans fear most. Here it may mean only that slightly less pressure permits counter-attacks in the center while Patton and Hodges await the zero hour and complete their reorganization after the headlong dash across France.

The airborne attacks in Holland were generally interpreted as the forerunners of an end run north of the Siegfried anchor at Kleve. Major forces are poised to the south for what could be direct eastward blows. Whatever it is to be, the Allied supreme command planned it that way, taking into consideration that there would be battles and perhaps setbacks, but without the slightest intention of letting a few day's delay at any point interfere with the main campaign plan.

The way many motorists continue to park their cars would seem to indicate that perhaps some of them like their windshields decorated with little red cards.

The days are slipping by rapidly. Better not delay longer getting those Christmas packages off to the men and women overseas.

Lot of folks as yet haven't made up their minds whether they will attend the World Series in Detroit, St. Louis—or taking a long shot, New York.

Protection of Workers' Rights are Assured By Priority Plan

Protection of the rights of workers affected by the War Manpower Commission's job priority referral program is assured by the establishment of standards developed after thorough consideration both nationally and locally. Of all these standards, none rates more importantly than the worker's right to appeal a decision which he feels is unfair.

The worker need not accept in silence action which he conscientiously believes is discriminatory or arbitrary and which may result in undue personal hardship. He has an unquestionable right to oppose such an action.

Furthermore, his right of appeal does not end with local authorities. In the event of an adverse decision, he may, if he wishes, carry his case for a complete and thorough hearing to regional and, if necessary, to national levels.

The appeals procedure is simple. First, the worker should present his grievance to the local area WMC management-labor committee—a group representing equally labor and management. The committee itself may hold a hearing or refer the appeal for a hearing to a local area appeals committee appointed by the WMC area director from a panel submitted by the area management-labor committee. In either case, the WMC area director or his representative will serve as non-voting chairman at the hearing. A decision will be rendered on the basis of the facts presented.

If the worker is not satisfied with the area committee's decision, he may appeal to the regional management-labor WMC committee appointed by the WMC regional director from a panel submitted by the management-labor committee. Here again, the regional director or his representative will preside over the hearing in a non-voting capacity. The regional committee will then render a decision unless it feels that more information is needed. In that case, the committee will either conduct another hearing or direct that the appeal be returned to the local area committee for further hearing.

In the event of an adverse decision at the regional level, the worker may appeal to the chairman of the WMC. Also, the WMC regional director may, if he wishes, refer any regional decision to the chairman for review. The decision of the chairman, made after consideration of the facts and any recommendations submitted by the national WMC management-labor committee, will be final. The chairman also may intervene and take jurisdiction over any appeals case at any stage of the proceedings.

Exercise by the employer of his right to appeal a decision of the WMC, will, in most areas, not prejudice the worker's right, where a statement of availability has been issued or a referral made to work areas. However, in some areas, the filing of an appeal by an employer will result in suspending the action which is being appealed for a period of not more than ten days from notification. This procedure may be used only when the WMC decides to issue a

Chapter 20

WEEKS went by. The hopes of Susan and Erich paled and shriveled. The plant stood idle in the summer's heat. The Scarborough bank account had dwindled away. Julie stood alone in her insistence not to abandon the project.

During the latter weeks of July Erich twice drove into Detroit and came back wildly exuberant with orders tucked in his pockets. They tried again their futile endeavor for workers but only a few offered their services. The orders laid in the files unfiled until the deadline was passed and cancellation notices came through. The People's Forum column in the Midvale paper carried scathing articles signed by Jim Lockhart, Orrie Mason and other town notables upbraiding the Scarborough men for not tossing their brooms for the summer winds.

Night had come again to Midvale. The relentless sun had gone to bed behind the shoulders of the hills but the thick, humid heat hung like a vivid curtain in the quiet air. Thorny in his little room at the Central Hotel where he had lived since the day it had opened its doors, sat at his desk. Moist, limpid shirt sleeves rolled above his elbows, his thinning hair damp and lifeless above a face that plainly bore the ravages of years and recent worries.

Below his window lights bloomed along the street. His eyes wandered aimlessly. The darkness was soothing, the tranquility of the scene a balm to confusion of his thoughts. Etched against the dark the inevitable neon signs of the blaring patterns of light and blue. An occasional car rattled past or stopped noisily at the curb.

Half-aloud he mumbled: "We are nearing a deadline. Soon we will have to close the plant. The last cent of the bank account will be gone. For a minute it seemed like a relief, like a refreshing breeze from the hills beyond the town. Then he thought of Julie and sighed. Pluck, that's what she had. It was a damn shame a person like that had to lose. And Julie had lost. She knew it.

He'd had to tell her boldly. "We can't go on much longer. It's down now to a matter of weeks." She had smiled without a trace of bitterness. "It's hard to quit, Thorny, sometimes even after the final bell has rung." She had left his office with her head held high even though tears were shining in her tired eyes.

Thorny jumped at the first sharp jangling of his telephone. It was the desk clerk downstairs. "A couple of men here to see you, Thorny. Names Rankin and Reeves, from Chicago."

"Never heard of them," Thorny said with irritation, "but send them up."

Hurriedly he straightened his room. The men knocked and Thorny let them in. They introduced themselves quickly and Thorny pointed them into chairs. Reeves was a tall gaunt man in his sixties, Thorny judged. Rankin, much younger, a heavy man with bushy black hair and a thin mustache.

Rankin did the talking while Reeves occupied himself with turning his hat nervously round and round in restive hands.

"We understand you represent the Scarborough interests."

Thorny nodded.

"We're in the paint business in Chicago. Reeves is Chairman of the Board of Regal Paint and Varnish. I'm in charge of sales. We're cramped for room and opening branch plants as fast as we can find them. I had a letter last week from a friend of mine in Detroit. He told me about this Scarborough plant and said he thought it could be bought."

Thorny felt like giving a war whoop. He cleared his throat. "Well, gentlemen, frankly, we had never considered selling. In fact we're just getting under way. Of course, I'm only the attorney for the Scarborough interests. Now they may have had something in mind."

Rankin cut in. "Pardon me for being blunt," he smiled good-naturedly. "We're not here to do horse trading. We've made a searching investigation and have the facts. I've already gotten in touch with your bank. We know the local condition that exists—your problem of getting workers—"

Thorny stroked his chin thoughtfully. "You fellows don't leave a stone unturned..."

"Now here's the proposition," Rankin crossed his legs and lighted a cigar that Thorny had given him. "We want to make a deal and make it fast. We're holding options on two other small plants. Our options expire tomorrow night. Well stay here until the noon train tomorrow. Then we'll either leave with a deed to the Scarborough plant in our pockets or we'll have wired and taken up our options on one of the other plants."

"There's the matter of price—," Thorny said when Rankin hesitated a moment to catch his breath.

"I've got a certified check in my pocket for $50,000. The minute you hand me the assigned deed the check will be in the hands of your client."

"Fifty thousand—," Thorny hid his excitement.

"You understand, of course, that we know that's more than it's worth. These times are not normal. Any fool with a factory and...," Rankin added cryptically, "men to work in it, can make money. Barrels of it. The market is crazy. Prices are no object. We are buying potentially."

Thorny no longer able to sit still, rose and started toward the wall telephone. "I'll get Julie on the telephone right now. We can run up and talk to her about it."

He grabbed the telephone. growled, "Give me Julie Scarborough, please, the number is, Oh, hell, you know what it is, just get it for me."

statement of availability or referral on grounds of undue personal hardship or underutilization of skill, and then only with the approval of the area management-labor committee.

The worker must file his appeal to area and regional levels within the time limit set by the WMC regional director. This will be not less than three nor more than seven days after notice of the action or decision. If the worker wishes to appeal to the chairman of the WMC, the appeal must be taken within seven days, after the notice of the regional decision is given. The worker may appeal either in person, in writing or in other manner. Any interested persons or groups may attend and be heard at appeals hearings. If an agricultural worker appeals a decision, representatives of agriculture, management and labor will be included on the committee hearing the case.

Check On Traffic Violations Brings Many To Justice Court

Continued efforts on the part of police to round up all violators of city traffic ordinances are bringing to light the fact many folks are operating cars who have no licenses. Last night the coppers, while checking "stop" signs at Madison avenue points, discovered two who were crashing the signs had no licenses. Several who gave the signs no attention did not have their operator's or owner's cards with them and will display their cards when they pay their fines.

In passing out the red souvenirs the coppers are playing no favorites and during the past few days several county and borough officials have anted up for the borough kitty.

This morning both sides of the Hickory street bridge were lined with parked cars. Now, its all right to park on one side, but on both sides—no. So the early morning coppers hied out on the bridge and decorated a number of the cars with nice new tickets.

The officers are endeavoring to use good judgment in tagging cars and have one ticket which is placed on cars. This is a warning ticket and on the back is printed the offense which is being violated. A record is kept of the car numbers on which the warnings are given and if there is another violation, then comes the red ticket, which means a fine before Magistrate Greenlund.

Local OCD Leaders Feel That Body Should Be Disbanded

During the past few days local township supervisors, county commissioners and civic authorities have received letters stating that there was an agitation by Gov. Edward Martin and others for a continuance of the OCD organizations. When the dangers that arose due to war are at an end it is felt by the Governor and others that the organizations should be continued to handle disasters of various kinds that might arise.

According to the suggestion made the commissioners, township supervisors and municipal heads should appoint Co-ordinators (corresponding to the Commanders of the OCD) and they would continue the fire wardens, air raid wardens auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen for future use. It is purposed to have these groups maintain a control center, continue drills, etc., and be ready for instant use in event of floods, hurricanes, fires, etc.

Local leaders of the OCD however feel that the patriotic urge due to the war caused the men and women of the various organizations to turn out at all hours and render service for their country actuated by patriotism. However with the end of the war it is not felt that the scores who have given of their time so generously would be willing to do so. In this area disasters have been few and Warren has never suffered from any occurrence that the police, firemen and similar groups could not handle.

Some are inclined to the belief that there must be some incentive for the men and women to devote time and effort to such groups as are encompassed in the OCD and after the war if they are to be maintained it should be on the basis of the National Guard with pay being made for the drills. However it is felt that this would call for needless expenditures for state officials handling the work and that the cost would be heavy and really not necessary.

Disguise Fails

How 'Bloody Tarawa' Has Changed

Marines in top photo, and their comrades who fought the Japs to extinction in the bloody battle for Tarawa last November, little thought that in less than a year our men would be able to indulge in the wry humor indicated by the sign in lower picture, put up by one of the men who helped rebuild the wrecked island. Tarawa's battlefields are now studded with informative signs marking points of interest for future tourists.

Rate Revision Is Announced By Penelec

J. P. Fenstermacher, district manager in Warren, of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, stated today that a revised schedule of rates for electric service had recently been filed by PENELEC with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and will become effective October 28, 1944.

For the past three years, PENELEC has had under consideration a revision of its rate structure. This revision has been delayed until the present time because of new factors introduced by war-time operations.

The revised schedule represents the first of a series of steps in a program designed to reduce the cost of electric service particularly to residential and commercial customers and to simplify the company's present rate structure.

The new rates will provide equal or lower billings to approximately 70 per cent of the company's present customers, primarily in the residential and small commercial service classifications. It is estimated that the aggregate reduction to be effected by the new rates will exceed $355,000 per year. Existing rates are to be retained for the benefit of all customers who will not benefit under the revised schedules, so that no increase in cost to customers will occur.

While the change will result in a substantial reduction in the company's revenues, the primary purpose of the revision is to provide a basis upon which the company ultimately can eliminate rate differences and achieve a simplified and lower rate structure. It is planned that this latter end is to be attained by a series of rate adjustments which will then permit the general level of the company's rates to be further reduced. The timing of subsequent moves in this program will depend upon the ability of the company to expand its sales when electric appliances again are available, as well as upon the absence of inflationary trends in the price structure of the nation.

Southland Entertainers Are Engaged For Party on Showboat "PAC-ket"

The "Showboat PAC-ket" will be all ready for the PAC anniversary party at the YWCA activities building on Saturday evening, according to reports received from the committees in charge of arrangements.

The party will get under way at 8:30 with music for dancing by the Dixie Duo. This will be in the gym, which is rapidly being transformed into a "showboat", complete with bridge and slot wheel.

Captain Allen Woodruff will be on the bridge to direct the activities and to announce the varied, inappropriate entertainment arranged by the program committee. This party is to include the entertainment of a lady and a gentleman from Ol' Kaintuck; songs by a "Black Rascal" from the "Jeeves" and the River Gypsies in a specialty act.

Committees in charge of the party, headed by Virginia Johnson and John Robertson are as follows:

Community Chest Head Urges Greater Number of Sustaining YW Members

At a supper-meeting of the YWCA membership committee, held Tuesday evening in the activities building, plans were formulated for contacting those persons who have not yet renewed their memberships for the coming season.

Chester Allen, president of the Warren Community Chest, spoke to the group on the part played by membership fees in the association budget, urging the members to see that adequate funds are procured and stressing the importance of having more sustaining memberships in the organization.

Names were selected by the committee members and workers were urged to complete their reports within the week.

Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson is chairman of the membership committee and those assisting her in the annual enrollment are as follows:

Machines For Farms Made Ration Free

Washington, Sept. 28.—(A)—Rationing and distribution control of all farm machinery and equipment, except corn pickers, was ended suddenly today by the War Food Administration.

The action was announced by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones, who said the 1944 production period and season of use for most rationed implements had passed and that the need for further controls except on corn pickers during the 1944-45 crop year "is not anticipated."

Jones said the ending of rationing of these items was in line with WFA's policy of "constantly examining all of its wartime regulations and removing them as soon as they are no longer essential."

Released from rationing and other distribution controls today are combines, corn binders, manure spreaders, mowers, side delivery balers, wheel tractors, grain drills, rakes, hay loaders, pick up hay potato planters, potato diggers, silo fillers, irrigation pumps, power sprayers, dragon tractors, well water systems, power pumps, farm milk coolers, sheet metal water well casing and farm scales.

ARMY IS SEEKING WACS FROM AREA

United States Army personnel launched a concerted drive in the Erie area today to recruit at least 1,250 women for duty in the WAC branch of the service. Although preliminary figures show only one-quarter of the potential womanpower listed in this vicinity, it is expected that 500 enlistees will be found in Erie, and 250 additional in each of Warren, Oil City and Meadville.

Directing the current campaign are Senior War Officer E. Morgan Winant, Lieut. Ida Pauline Jones and Capt. Albert W. Lathrop.

The current WAC drive is aimed at securing mainly women for medical service work. To enlist, a woman must be between the ages of 20 and 50, married or single, without dependents under the age of 14, and must be in good health. Educational requirements for these enlistments are two years of high school with a satisfactory aptitude rating.

Some of the jobs offered are dental technician, dental hygienist, X-ray and laboratory technician, occupational therapy, pharmacist, optometrist, orthopedic technician, surgical and medical technician, and many others.

Gas Thieves Settle With Truck Owner

Gasoline thefts from trucks and tractors at the Smith Sawmill near Lander covering a long period have been solved by the arrest of three young men by the officials of the sheriff's office and state police. The young men arrested were Monty Conklin, 25, Randolph Luce 19 and Joseph Jackson, 18, all of Onondale, N. Y.

Luce and Conklin were picked up near the mill by men from the sheriff's office and after securing a statement from them Jackson, an Indian, was picked up in New York state near his home. All three were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Greenlund yesterday. The boys admitted taking some gas but claimed they did not get all that had been taken. In all over 400 gallons have been stolen during the past few months.

The father of the Luce boy made restitution and paid the costs in the case and Ruel Smith, owner of the mill then stated that he was satisfied and did not press charges further. The boys were discharged. All of the boys are said to be good workers and they agreed to repay the money involved.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION NEWS

Thelma Prendergast

Good Breakfast Vital to Everyone's Living

Eat a good breakfast and start the day right, suggests Mrs. Prendergast, home economics extension representative, Warren county. Every man, woman and child needs a good breakfast in order to do his best work, maintain health, and promote growth.

Fruit, cereal, bread of some kind, beverage, eggs, bacon, ham, sausage, and scrapple are excellent foods for breakfast. The kind and the amount of food each person eats for the first meal of the day depends on his age and activity. Persons doing heavy manual work will require more food than those doing light work.

Fruit whets the appetite for the rest of the meal. Oranges, grapes, fruit, tomato juice, or fresh fruits are especially good for breakfast. Ready-cooked or prepared cereals often are preferred for breakfast on warm days while a hot cooked cereal usually is more appealing on cold days. Choose whole grain and enriched or restored cereals in order to get the extra B vitamins and minerals they contain.

An egg for breakfast is an easy way to get that one egg a day, says Mrs. Prendergast. Eggs, bacon, ham, sausage, or scrapple stay by a person and he doesn't get that mid-morning slump. Bread served plain or toasted or as French or milk toast helps to provide a breakfast that furnishes its share of the day's food needs. Muffins or other hot breads give variety to the morning meal.

Milk in some form should be the breakfast beverage for children while adults may have milk, tea or coffee.

Recent studies show that breakfast often is the poorest meal of the day and even may be omitted.

★ WARREN AT WAR

A SALUTE TO RETAILERS

Did you ever stop to compare your wartime living with that of other people in this war?

Maybe you couldn't buy as many juicy steaks as you would have liked, but you haven't gone hungry. Maybe gas rationing made you give up your Sunday drive, but you've had the transportation you really needed. Maybe you couldn't buy that refrigerator or that washing machine — to say nothing of many of the things Sylvania normally manufactures for civilian use — but you've managed to make what you have do for the duration.

Yes, we've fared pretty well during the most terrible war in history. We've lived comfortably and well, while less fortunate people in other countries have perished for want of the bare necessities of life.

We can thank the retail stores of this community that have maintained an efficient service of civilian supply. By and large, our merchants have helped us hold the line against runaway inflation by strict adherence to OPA regulations. And, despite inevitable shortages, they have played fair to all of us by their administration of the rationing rules in the American way.

Sylvania takes this opportunity to pay tribute where tribute is due to our local merchants who make this community a good place to work and live.

Mrs. Harold Hill and small daughters have rejoined her husband in Tennessee where he is employed. Their home here still remains unoccupied.

The rummage sale sponsored by the auxiliary of the Presbyterian church realized a substantial sum to be applied on the repairs of the church property.

Mrs. Price has returned from New Jersey where she made arrangements to have her furniture moved to Langley where they plan to make their home. Her daughter stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Healy during her absence.

Bernell Holmes and Howard Eastman have been at home on furlough but have returned to their respective training stations.

County Agent's News

Mice In Orchards Present Problems

The presence of meadow mice and pine mice in the orchards means a definite hazard, County Agent Tritt cautions as he urges orchardists of Warren county to locate areas where mice are present now, and effectively place poison bait later.

Mice of both species girdle orchard trees, and although present conditions indicate the population of mice may be less than average this year, the county agent warns orchardists not to relax any efforts to control these pests.

Areas of heavy grass growth should be watched and all runways located now, to facilitate the distribution of poison bait. This bait can be placed in the runways, in the grass, or under bundles of corn fodder or old hay placed in the orchard. Placing hay and litter now will bring the mice to spots where they can be killed more effectively.

Bait stations should be plentiful if mice are numerous. By placing them now, orchardists can prepare to set out the poison bait in about a month.

Check Woodlots Before Leaves Fall

Every woodlot should be given a thorough inspection before the leaves fall, reminds County Agent Tritt. At this time it is easy to see which trees are dead-topped, completely dead, or just in the stage of dying, and these trees can be bark-blazed for later identification.

Sawmill operators are still appealing for logs to fill orders for war materials. Pumpmills, mines and other wood-using industries are having difficulty getting sufficient timber to keep operating on urgently needed war supplies. Labor supplies to cut and transport timber to consuming plants also are limited.

By checking over woodlots now, owners can get a good idea of how much can be cut this winter without seriously reducing the growing stock in the woods. When crops are harvested, they can use spare time with saw, axe and team getting out trees that are marked now. Besides the weak and dying trees, all crooked, short and bushy ones should be cut in order to keep the woods in good shape for future growth. In addition, trees above 16 inches in diameter at breast height make good sawlogs for present market needs.

YMCA Basketball League To Make Plans On October 2nd

A meeting of all the teams and individuals interested in the formation of a YMCA basketball league has been called by Lloyd Shirk, program secretary of the YMCA, for Monday, October 2, at eight o'clock, at the YMCA.

A great deal of interest has been displayed by basketball followers, both in the city and out of the city, in the formation of a league that would include both city and county teams. Despite the inroads made by the selective service on local basketball talent, there still seems to be a sufficient number of capable players available to make possible the formation of a fast, well-balanced league. It is the desire of the league officials to provide Warren fans with the best basketball this region can produce.

Service men from the prisoner-of-war camps in this area have indicated a strong desire to enter some teams in such a league. The camps are well supplied with basketball talent from all sections of

BEHIND THE LINES

Warren High's "real little Dragons" took a 14-12 decision over Bob Jewell's 2nd and 3rd team combination Monday at Russell Field and tonight the Eagles will take on the Varsity at Wilder Field in an attempt to gain revenge. . . . Oil City doesn't have faith in that the Warren varsity can take the Oilers by two touchdowns Friday night. We quote the Derrick: "There is no doubt that Coach J. B. Leidy, Warren coach for the past 32 years, has another crack outfit, but are they going to defeat the locals by two touchdowns? How about it Oilers?" Well, now, how about it Dragons? Can you do it or can't you? . . . All those interested in the YMCA Basketball League for the coming season should by all means attend the meeting at the Y on Oct. 2. A former high school grider, now with the Armed Forces, is doing well on a certain navy base team. More news about it later. . . . Any news of former local athletes now serving Uncle Sam would be appreciated by this corner. News of their whereabouts, activity in sports, now and before they left for service is asked. Send to this corner if you have some interesting facts. . . . Maybe all emotional songs come from the ordinary lovers, but here is one song whose origin might interest you. Tommy Harmon came home on furlough to find that his sweetheart, Elise Knox, was too busy with the moving pictures to take much notice in him. One of Harmon's friends, a song producer, explained to Tommy that it was love that was getting him down and that the reason for his being so "down in the dumps" was the fact that Miss Knox could not see him often. Tommy's friend wrote a song for him, explaining to Harmon's girl his emotions. They sent the song on a record to Elise. So much did the song convince her of Tommy's love for her, they were married shortly afterwards. . . . By the way, that song was "I'm Just a Fellow on a Furlough." . . . Plans were once drawn up for the purpose of building a football stadium at Russell Field, but the proposition was politely shoved into the background. Just because there is a war going on, there is no reason why Warren cannot have more plans made for a stadium. How about it? . . . A great number of Warren footballers will make the trip to Pittsburgh to witness the Pitt-Notre Dame tilt. . . . Maybe we're a bit hasty in announcing that Detroit is the likely candidate for the AL pennant. New York is still in there punching. . . . Just a lot of extra steam is all. Strong Vincent High School encountered one of those things early this week when some of the Colonel players stated that they would refuse to play in next Saturday's night's Academy contest if two injured fellow-players were kept out of the game. They had two choices. Play or get out. Your guess is as good as mine—they stayed. . . . The government talks about how much more ammunition the hunters will get this year but we haven't seen any of it. . . . Jamestown High gridders are finally going to get into some action. Being held up by the police score, Dent Moon's boys have gotten a bit impatient. The Red and Green get into the scrap taking on Lakewood Friday night. . . . The mention of the name Moon reminds us of this: That Warren High's Dragons are the most frequently scouted team of any in the bunch. Last Saturday, Pflug of Bradford, and Bishop of Falconer. They must be afraid of those mighty Dragons. . . . Reports are that the high school cagers will develop new defensive tactics this year. From the town gossip, Massa has plenty of new ideas up his sleeve.

Boston Surprises the Brownies And Gives Detroiters Lead

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's injured Senators picked to win the pennant in March, but destined to be a gloomy last in October, held the key today to Detroit's first pennant bid since 1940.

Granted the Bengals may find the last four steps the steepest after beating the Nats 15 times in their first 18 meetings, but the two opposition candidates, St. Louis, one game back, and New York, three lengths off the pace, will be clashing in a dog-eat-dog series that can easily eliminate both.

With four games to go all around, Detroit's one-game lead looks good because the schedule is breaking in their favor after a long uphill struggle. Steve O'Neill overpowered one of Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout are not down for duty today but either or both will be on call.

As long as the Tigers get pitching and hitting like yesterday's 4-0 victory over Philadelphia, nobody can get close.

Rain in St. Louis almost turned things upside down yesterday but the Browns, after moving the Boston finale from afternoon to night and delaying the start for an hour, waiting for the drizzle to stop, finally played and were sorry. It was the end of a 7-game St. Louis winning streak and a 10-game Boston losing streak as the Browns, led by Pinky Woods, a surprise nominee, took the decision, 4-1, his fourth of the year, but gave way to Red Barrett after a wild spell in the eighth. Denny Galehouse was lifted for a pinchhitter in the fifth trailing, 1-0, and his relief pitchers failed as the Browns muffed repeated opportunities in the late innings.

It was Newhouser with win-No. 23 for the Tigers in the shutout of the A's, boosting the Newhouser-Trout total to 55 victories, tying the old mark held by Cleveland's Jim Bagby, Sr. and Stan Coveleske.

New York kept its foot in the door and breathed life into its whisper of a chance by trimming Chicago, 7-2. Cleveland showed Earl Henry, a lefthander from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the recruit beat Washington, 6-4.

Cincinnati's Bucky Walters picked up his 23rd National League success by topping New York, 8-7. Chicago came through in the 11th for a 5-3 edge over the Phils. In Brooklyn, the Dodgers took another from the Cards, downing Billy Southworth's crew 3-2. Al Rubeling hit his fourth homer in the ninth with one on against the Pirates to give them a 4-3 edge.

The Boring Mills and X-Ray had a close battle and wound up even for the match with two each. Buny Sealise was the Boring Mills' top man with 522, while Windy Morse was the strongest for the technicians with 559.

The Heaters and Machine Shop also split even in another close match. R. Ross of the Heaters was high with a nice 561, while Weidert of the Machinists was high with 562.

UTICA WINS GAME WITH BINGHAMTON

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 28.—(P)—The Binghamton Triplets, defeated last night 3 to 1, will pit Karl Dreves, who pitched a one-hitter earlier in the series, against the Utica Blue Sox tonight in the Eastern League Governor's Cup finals.

If Utica ties the series tonight, the teams will return here for the seventh game tomorrow night.

Lancaster Wins Interstate Cup

By the Associated Press

The Lancaster Red Roses, finishing fourth in the Interstate league season, are the 1944 Governor's cup winners.

The Roses, who won the trophy last year, defeated the league-leading Allentown Cardinals last night 3-1 for the fourth straight year.

Behind the four-hit pitching of Tex Kardow, the Roses scored two runs in the second inning and were never headed. Allentown made its only score in the ninth.

Sharing honors with Kardow was Tony Parisse, who managed the Cardinals to its first Interstate title in 1939 and who started off the present season with the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Roses, after losing 11 straight to the Cardinals and dropping the first two of the cup series went on to take four straight in retaining the trophy. Previously, the Roses defeated second place Wilmington in the semi-finals while Allentown eliminated the York White Roses.

Of course, I'm making my first predictions of the season, but I expect my average for 1944 to be well above 99.

I am expanding my usual system this year. (Ed. Note: Also his waistline). Heretofore, at frequent

Full-Dress Report on The Quebec Conference

of Holland whose destruction or capture may now be deemed highly probable.

Allied forces in northwestern Europe have swelled to between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 men, he said.

"Unless organized German resistance collapses in the near future, enormous additional U. S. forces will be brought to bear in the final struggle," he said.

Of between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 Allied troops now in France, the Prime Minister said, the ratio is three Americans to two Britons.

The British have suffered 90,000 casualties in France, he said, and American losses in killed, wounded and missing, including those in southern and northern France, have risen to 145,000.

British troops in Europe, he added, are now in a proportion of two for every three Americans.

Paying tribute to Allied airborne troops, he said "casualties have been grievous, but for those who mourn there is the consolation that the sacrifice was not needlessly demanded."

Churchill said a Jewish brigade now being formed would take part in the occupation of Germany. He revealed also that the number of Italians fighting alongside the Allies on the Italian front soon would be more than doubled.

Indicating the tremendous power exerted by the Allies on D-Day, he reported that 250,000 men swarmed ashore in the first 24 hours and that 1,000,000 men had been landed by the 20th day of the invasion.

Turning to the Far East, he declared that the ten Japanese divisions which were sent against India had been repulsed and largely shattered. The campaign directed by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten described as the largest and most important ground fighting that so far has taken place against Japan.

Between 50,000 and 60,000 Japanese have been killed in this campaign, he said.

Churchill reported that "complete agreement on every point" had been reached at the Quebec conference, adding that he and President Roosevelt had decided there would be no changes in the chiefs of staff charged with conducting the war.

The scale of British effort against Japan, he declared, would be limited only by available shipping, which, presently, was magnificently magnified because the U-boat war had ended and "we have been able to come out of convoy in the western hemisphere."

Orsova is on the river frontier and only Yugoslav territory lies to the south.

"In the Danube bend, there was lively reconnoitering activity on both sides of the iron gate," said the official war bulletin broadcast from Berlin. "Soviet forces who have advanced south from Orsova in a southern direction were repulsed and enemy formations who have crossed the Danube were smashed."

Orsova is on the river frontier and only Yugoslav territory lies to the south.

Supplies of Coal to Home Users Will Be Parceled Out

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Sept. 28—(P)—People who use coal for home-heating—in the eastern half of the United States—will have to go easy on it.

There will not be enough to fill all demands. So the government has ordered dealers east of the Mississippi to parcel out their supplies to home-users this way:

Anthracite—87 percent what you normally got. This 13 per cent cut was in effect last year.

Bituminous (soft coal) from the southern Appalachian mines—90 per cent of what you normally got. This is a 10 per cent cut. There was no cut last year.

(This should be explained here because the bituminous problem is complicated. Not all bituminous mined east of the Mississippi will be short. The only kind that will be the bituminous from the southern Appalachian mines.

Because of the need to conserve coal, Secretary Ickes has asked the governors of all states east of the Mississippi to start a coal conservation campaign among their people.

You'll be asked to save on coal consumption this way: Weather strip your house, put on storm doors, fix your furnace so that it will not needlessly burn up coal, and don't start making furnace fires until the weather really calls for it.

This is what officials in Ickes' solid fuels administration say: Not even the early surrender of Germany will ease the coal problem.

The need for anthracite this year is 66 million tons but only about 60 million will be produced.

The need for bituminous is 626 million tons. About 610 million tons will be produced.

Anthracite (hard coal) is the favorite home-heating coal from Maine to Washington, D. C., and west to Erie, Pa.

The soft bituminous coal from the southern Appalachians—the best quality bituminous—is the favorite home-heating coal in the southeastern states and even as far west as the great lakes area.

It also is the important industrial coal.

There are two main reasons for the shortage in anthracite and bituminous:

Lack of manpower to meet the increased requirements; and lack of stockpiles that got the country through the shortages caused by the strikes last year. Strikes this year have cut production, too.

Last year 589 million tons of bituminous were mined but about 619 million tons were consumed.

That 30-million ton difference between what was produced and what was used was made up out of the stockpiles built up in this country. Those stockpiles are gone now, used up.

Last year 60 million tons of anthracite were produced and used. There was no anthracite stockpile.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
